

El Dorado Residents

Protect yourself from costly water and sewer line repairs TODAY!

As a homeowner, you are responsible for the buried, outside water and sewer lines that run from the point of utility connection to your home. If these lines fail due to normal wear and tear, ground shifting, extreme weather or tree root intrusion — repairs could be very costly and inconvenient. The City of El Dorado has partnered with Service Line Warranties of America to offer affordable protection against the high cost of repairs while also addressing the aging infrastructure of the city, improving water conservation and preventing ground pollution from unrepaired leaks and breaks.

Service Line Warranties of America is endorsed by the National League of Cities, an organization dedicated to helping city leaders build better communities, and has an accredited Better Business Bureau A+ rating. Backed by a strong track record of satisfied customers, Service Line Warranties of America offers generous coverage for service line protection and maintains a claim approval rating of more than 98%.

Service Line Warranties of America is currently partnered with nearly 200 cities in North America and to date has saved residents more than $45 million in repair costs.
